Campaign was carried out at CSWRI residential campus on cleaning of sewerage and drainage systems by farm section and estate section staff. Residents were advised to restraint from throwing of plastic waste and other waste materials in to the drainage systems as it will lead into choking. The drainage pipes were checked for choking and leakage. The sewerage system in the residential quarters is working properly. Drainage system at the back of Type III twin storey building was found to have leakage and choking. Estate section of the Institute has attended the work and removed the plastics that are choked in the drainage system. Other than this, there are no complaints on the outlet of domestic drainage. Water harvesting places were also cleaned and weeds were removed so that rain water flows into the water harvesting tank.
